

Afghanistan war has foreign and regional dimensions

Following steps in Taliban attacks on the north of Afghanistan, a number of Afghan military experts in their interviews with The Kabul Times expressed their concern over the increasing violence in the country and what has been reported as Afghanistan's foreign and regional dimensions.

Abdullah, a President's Office Communications and Public Relations, Kabul Office in his recent remarks by pointing to foreign interventions in an international affairs of Afghanistan and that there is no doubt that there is evidence in battlefields has shown that Taliban army is supporting Taliban fighters on different parts of the country.

"Taliban is living in Pakistan, a country that is supporting the Taliban fighters. Besides the growing danger that propaganda from Pakistan," Ousef said.

The comes after Afghanistan has been President Ashraf Ghani's in a number of countries around the world, showing that an organized military organization is in the region to prevent Taliban control in these countries, including Pakistan, Afghanistan, and other neighboring countries, he said.

"We are not supporting terrorism in any country," said the ANA's Chief of Staff, Major General Abdul Wahid, who said that the ANA is not supporting terrorism in any country, but it is supporting the Afghan people and the Afghan government, he said.

"If countries supporting terrorism are supporting terrorism in any country, we will not support them," he said.

"We are not supporting terrorism in any country, but we are supporting the Afghan people and the Afghan government," he said.

"We are not supporting terrorism in any country, but we are supporting the Afghan people and the Afghan government," he said.

Fatalities caused by 3rd wave of COVID-19 on rise, MoPH

The third wave of COVID-19 in Afghanistan has been followed by increasing the death toll of COVID-19 patients and positive cases of the virus. The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing.

The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing. The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing.

The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing. The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing.

The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing. The MoPH says that the number of deaths is increasing and the number of positive cases is also increasing.

Why U.S. drone strikes are at an all-time low

By Michael Hinch

In August 2020, the man who was U.S. President Joe Biden's deputy national security adviser, Kenneth Felt, once again reported to Biden that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low.

Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low.

Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low.

Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low. Felt said that the number of drone strikes was at an all-time low.

"Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt.

"Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt.

"Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt.

"Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt. "Biden was one of the major foreign policy accomplishments to be made in the 'beyond war' era," said Felt.

As we leave Afghanistan, don't abandon women and girls

By Nadia Hinch

While the world's attention is focused on the military aspects of the withdrawal from Afghanistan, the needs of women and girls are often overlooked. As we leave Afghanistan, it is crucial to ensure that the rights and needs of women and girls are protected.

While the world's attention is focused on the military aspects of the withdrawal from Afghanistan, the needs of women and girls are often overlooked. As we leave Afghanistan, it is crucial to ensure that the rights and needs of women and girls are protected.

While the world's attention is focused on the military aspects of the withdrawal from Afghanistan, the needs of women and girls are often overlooked. As we leave Afghanistan, it is crucial to ensure that the rights and needs of women and girls are protected.

While the world's attention is focused on the military aspects of the withdrawal from Afghanistan, the needs of women and girls are often overlooked. As we leave Afghanistan, it is crucial to ensure that the rights and needs of women and girls are protected.

of Afghanistan have not supported a woman of daylight in exercising their lives and covering their rights. School girls in Kabul are being denied of becoming teachers, doctors, and pilots. The women serve in many government ministries, in parliament members, ministers, and ambassadors.

of Afghanistan have not supported a woman of daylight in exercising their lives and covering their rights. School girls in Kabul are being denied of becoming teachers, doctors, and pilots. The women serve in many government ministries, in parliament members, ministers, and ambassadors.

of Afghanistan have not supported a woman of daylight in exercising their lives and covering their rights. School girls in Kabul are being denied of becoming teachers, doctors, and pilots. The women serve in many government ministries, in parliament members, ministers, and ambassadors.

of Afghanistan have not supported a woman of daylight in exercising their lives and covering their rights. School girls in Kabul are being denied of becoming teachers, doctors, and pilots. The women serve in many government ministries, in parliament members, ministers, and ambassadors.

Hospitals and clinics have been targeted by the Taliban, making it difficult for women and girls to receive medical care. The Taliban has also targeted schools and universities, preventing women and girls from receiving an education.

Hospitals and clinics have been targeted by the Taliban, making it difficult for women and girls to receive medical care. The Taliban has also targeted schools and universities, preventing women and girls from receiving an education.

Hospitals and clinics have been targeted by the Taliban, making it difficult for women and girls to receive medical care. The Taliban has also targeted schools and universities, preventing women and girls from receiving an education.

Hospitals and clinics have been targeted by the Taliban, making it difficult for women and girls to receive medical care. The Taliban has also targeted schools and universities, preventing women and girls from receiving an education.

conservatively who have died in America's war since 9/11. At least 100,000 people have died in Afghanistan, and the number is still rising. The war has also caused the displacement of millions of people.

conservatively who have died in America's war since 9/11. At least 100,000 people have died in Afghanistan, and the number is still rising. The war has also caused the displacement of millions of people.

conservatively who have died in America's war since 9/11. At least 100,000 people have died in Afghanistan, and the number is still rising. The war has also caused the displacement of millions of people.

conservatively who have died in America's war since 9/11. At least 100,000 people have died in Afghanistan, and the number is still rising. The war has also caused the displacement of millions of people.