

Islam, the Kazakh President Nурсултан Назарбаев, who has been instrumental in terms of maintaining high-level dialogue between Kazakhstan and the United States.

"This year is marking the 30th anniversary of our Independence. During this period, we are strengthening our friendship and mutually beneficial cooperation. The United States is our good partner in so many areas, including trade and economic cooperation. We are grateful to Kazakhstan as a friend of our nation and to the American people for their support of our independence and development. We are pleased to see the growing cooperation between both Kazakhstan and the United States."

At the end of the ceremony, the Afghan ambassador stressed, the Afghan issue is always in the focus of his talks with the U.S. ambassador. He also thanked the U.S. ambassador for his visits to China, Central Asia and international organizations.

At the end of the ceremony, the U.S. ambassador expressed gratitude to Kasym-Jomart Tokayev for the opportunity to meet in person. The US ambassador also thanked the Afghan ambassador for his support of the U.S. position, as well as noted Kazakhstan's important stabilizing role in the Central Asian region.

At the end of the ceremony, many Kazakhized shared his assessments of the current situation in Afghanistan and the importance of diplomacy regarding the future development of the intra-Afghan dialogue.

At the end of the ceremony, the director of efforts of all states holders on the Afghan track,

The Kabul Times