

Damaging public infrastructures; clear violation of int'l humanitarian rights

Taliban has recently started to destruction of public infrastructures in Afghanistan, which has created serious problems for the people of Afghanistan. Afghan civil society organization, Afghanistan Independent Human Rights Commission (AIHRC) and the government consider destruction of public infrastructures as clear violation of international humanitarian rights, saying the Taliban group is clearly in position to stop the ongoing conflict to stand on the international humanitarian rights principles, saying that destruction of public infrastructures is clear violation of international humanitarian rights.

"We're asking the Taliban leadership to seriously review decisions and clarify their position on construction of public infrastructures in Afghanistan," said Shukhratullo Makhlov, a spokesman for AIHRC.

Taliban has always attacked public infrastructures and government buildings, but recent destruction of some public infrastructures has been followed by serious reactions on national and international levels.

Afghanistan Vice President Anwarullah Saifi says a group has the support of Afghan public infrastructures, but the Taliban group does not intend on any projects.

"Recent groups should not be treated as a trading terrorist group," he said.

Mawlawi, President Ashraf Ghani's ally, said Taliban Humanitarian Ministry by expressing concern over destruction of the country's public infrastructures by the Taliban group says Taliban has no programs for destruction and harming the people.

Former minister of interior Masoud Aslamy by pointing that when Taliban and who are representing considered destruction of the country's public infrastructures as a serious threat. He said that Taliban has not changed.

Mawlawi, Afghanistan minister of defense says the country has always harmed and destroyed the country's public infrastructures, public and government institutions, schools, roads and education and higher education institutions.

Previously, President Mohammad Ashraf Ghani had repeatedly said that Taliban has destroyed public infrastructures and government buildings worth $3 billion in the past 20 years. Masoud Aslamy, a member of parliament, said that the Taliban group is also attacking public infrastructures and government buildings across the country.

According to reports, Taliban has recently destroyed public infrastructures in various provinces, particularly in Kandahar, Ghazni, Nangarhar, Herat, Faryab and Mazar-e-Sharif. Afghan civil society organizations have asked the Taliban group to stop destroying public infrastructures and killing innocent people.

This comes amid increasing Taliban attacks and violence across the country.

Assessment of Afghanistan's Music in the last 100 years

By: Mohammad Ehsan Irfan

Music is a sentimental and human phenomenon that is solidifying effects, has transformed into a vast domain of the daily life like eating without which food is impossible and one cannot sleep without it. It is the source of the heart and soul and all the dignities of their bodies which therefore music is a common language of human beings, no any other phenomenon such as music is able to connect people of different political and ethnic theories. Thus, it is only art of music which can bring together nationalities, nations and nations around the world and together.

Visual attractions are an effective way to capture the attention of the masses that we cannot underestimate their positive impact in the society. Music and cultural aspects of the Afghan Music.

This music, in its origin and development from a religious music that spread to India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

World's famous historians have written about Aryan music in Herodotus has written about the Aryan music in his book 'The History of the World'. He said that the Aryan music was spread from India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

World's famous historians have written about Aryan music in Herodotus has written about the Aryan music in his book 'The History of the World'. He said that the Aryan music was spread from India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

Music is a sentimental and human phenomenon that is solidifying effects, has transformed into a vast domain of the daily life like eating without which food is impossible and one cannot sleep without it. It is the source of the heart and soul and all the dignities of their bodies which therefore music is a common language of human beings, no any other phenomenon such as music is able to connect people of different political and ethnic theories. Thus, it is only art of music which can bring together nationalities, nations and nations around the world and together.

Visual attractions are an effective way to capture the attention of the masses that we cannot underestimate their positive impact in the society. Music and cultural aspects of the Afghan Music.

This music, in its origin and development from a religious music that spread to India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

World's famous historians have written about Aryan music in Herodotus has written about the Aryan music in his book 'The History of the World'. He said that the Aryan music was spread from India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

World's famous historians have written about Aryan music in Herodotus has written about the Aryan music in his book 'The History of the World'. He said that the Aryan music was spread from India and Persia through the Arya immigrants. It had a different form in the past and brought about new age and brought about new being common during the era of the Arya King Yama.

UN committed to stay alongside Afghanistan in fighting COVID-19

KABUL, Afghanistan is supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The United Nations has said it is committed to supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The United Nations has said it is committed to supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The United Nations has said it is committed to supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

UN committed to stay alongside Afghanistan in fighting COVID-19

KABUL, Afghanistan is supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The United Nations has said it is committed to supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

UN committed to stay alongside Afghanistan in fighting COVID-19

KABUL, Afghanistan is supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The United Nations has said it is committed to supporting the fight against COVID-19, the situation could quickly get out of control," Amnesty International said in a statement.

The World Health Organization has stated that the aim of the assistance was to improve health services in Afghanistan and to help the country's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

